RELEASE AND WAIVER

In consideration of granting permission to me, the undersigned, or my minor children, to enter upon premises owned or controlled by _____ located near _____, Texas, for the purpose of camping, hiking, rockcliming, swimming, wading, exploring underground caves, crevices or passageways, or for any other legal purpose, I do hereby release the owner, leasee or other persons having control of the premises from any and all losses and damages which may occur to my person, minor children or property while engaged in such activities. I further acknowledge that such activities may be inherently dangerous, and it is my intention by this release to waive any claims I may have, to assume all risks, known and unknown, which may arise from such activities and to hold harmless from the same the landowner and leasees or others having control of the premises with the landowner's consent.

I further acknowledge that I understand that under the so-called "Texas Sportsman's Law," effective 1 September 1989, the landowner does not:

1) assume that the premises are safe for cave exploration;
2) owe the person to whom permission is granted a greater degree of care than is owed to a trespasser on the premises;or,
3) assume responsibility or incur liability for any injury to any person or property caused by any act of the person to whom permission is granted;and
4) charge a fee for entry to the property.

I further acknowledge that the granting of permission to me or my minor children to enter upon stated premises for the stated purpose is specifically limited to the date(s) _____, and that entering the premises without specific permission at any other time constitutes trespass and may subject me to prosecution under the trespass laws of the State of Texas.
